

The Copper Queen Store.

A Foreword on Millinery

First and foremost—Laces. There are other trimmings used, of course—foliage and flowers, ribbons and pearls, mousselines and chiffons—but in nearly every case, with lace.

Irish crochet loose and the square mesh filet lace are the kinds most used; white or Arabian, or ecru, the colors.

Foliage—just foliage, without flowers—is used very freely. A very stylish and striking hat is of all black materials, with the exception of a spray of green foliage.

The time of 1776 has furnished an inspiration—Colonial Shapes. It's the three cornered hat—the brim touching the crown in three places. There'll be plenty of these, but the shape is not so noticeable as you'd suppose. The three cornered effect is all but lost amid the trimming.

The French Dip is another new fashion kink. The trimming, sometimes the hat itself, dips slightly at the back, extending down over the coiffure.

If any one color is better than another it is black, or black with white. A handsome combination is that of maize and black. All colors, though, are good.

Announcement of the date of our millinery opening will be made later.

We are quite sure the Opening will be the most interesting of any we've yet had.

Road Reaches Half Century Mark

Pittsburg, Feb. 12.—The locomotives of the Buffalo and Allegheny division of the Pennsylvania railroad were decorated with flags and bunting today in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the road. The road was one of the pioneer enterprises of its kind in this part of the country and has had an eventful career during its half century of existence. It was originally chartered as the Pittsburgh, Kittanning & Warren railroad, and it led to a more or less precarious existence, part of the time in the hands of a receiver, until absorbed by the Pennsylvania company two years ago.

Pearson Withdraws From Church

TERRITORY VS. WALES

Second Chapter—General Interest Manifested—Continued at 12 Last Night.

The case of Territory against Harry Wales, which came up for hearing at 5 o'clock yesterday before Justice Brown attracted general interest, inasmuch as it was the second case in the past two days in which defendant, Wales, has prominently figured. The case was carefully presented to the REVIEW readers yesterday as the evidence came out in Justice Williams' court, and in all material points corresponds with that case. There was some new evidence introduced, but practically nothing that resulted in changing the general complexion of the case.

The case was the result of an arrest that Officers Johnson and Horston made a few nights ago at the instigation of Peter Watson, who swore out a warrant against Harry Wales, who recently came here from Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Peter Watson came in from Gleason on Feb. 5, and after drinking to some extent he fell in with Harry Wales and they began to buck the tiger. They both won quite heavily and after a good deal of excitement Watson wanted to go to the hotel. When Watson awoke in the Johnson house he found that he had lost his money and swore out a warrant for Wales' arrest.

There was considerable testimony introduced by witness from both sides, but varied very little from that published in the REVIEW of Wednesday morning. The prosecution was conducted by Atty. Geo. Nell and the defense was in charge of Atty. Miller. The case was tried at great length and two stenographers were employed to take down the evidence.

Court adjourned last night at eleven o'clock just at the point where the case was closed in Judge Williams' court on the day previous. The defense have additional testimony which will be presented today.

TESTS OF COINAGE

Men Who See That Uncle Sam Is Not Cheated.

Philadelphia, Feb. 12.—The annual tests of the coinage were commenced today at the mint by the assay commission. Specimens of all the different shipments of coins were examined, one in every thousand in the case of gold coins, and one in every two thousand in the case of silver coins, having been reserved for that purpose. The tolerance, or limit of divergence allowed by law is one and a half grains for silver and half a grain for gold. It is the important duty of the commission to see that these limits have not been exceeded. The members of the commission first examined the scales which were to be used by them in weighing the coins. The standard weight used is the Troy pound of 5760 grains, the government being in possession of a duplicate of the original made in London in 1827. This duplicate is kept with great formality in the dual charge of the director of the mint and the superintendent of the Philadelphia mint.

Each official has a key to one of the two locks of the box, making it impossible to open it unless both act in conjunction. Inside of this box is still another one containing a third, in which the standard pound is securely screwed. After the commission had ascertained that its means for weighing were in first class order the work of testing the gold coins began and continued throughout the day. Samples of the output from the Philadelphia, San Francisco and New Orleans mints were taken from carefully sealed envelopes and weighed. Tomorrow the committee on assaying will investigate the fineness of the gold and silver in the coins.

Heavy Sand Storm in Nevada.

Reno, Nevada, Feb. 12.—This place was swept by a terrific sand storm today. The sun was obscured by dense clouds of sand and the mountains were cleaned of snow.

LEADING PURSUITS

Copper Queen Store of Great Magnitude.

Its Foundation the Result of a Crying Need.—Colossal Department Store Doing Extensive Business.

The Copper Queen store was practically the outgrowth of circumstances and is the result of extraordinary commercial conditions which existed prior to 1880. At that time the small merchants who were doing business charged unreasonable and exorbitant prices to the miners, cattlemen and settlers who were making their homes and doing business in this, at that time, isolated country.

Professor James Douglas, the President of the Copper Queen Mining Company, desired to remedy this condition as far as possible, and set about to launch the business that at the present has assumed the gigantic proportions that marks its position in the commercial world.

The company bought out Mrs. Crosssey, who had been conducting a store on the site of the present library building, in the month of February, 1880, and placed Mr. Miller in as manager and Mr. W. H. Brophy as assistant. Mr. Miller was obliged to resign his position on account of his health and Mr. Brophy then assumed entire charge of the store and has remained in that capacity since that time.

To give an idea of what the founding of the Copper Queen store meant to its patrons or those who were living within this district or in neighboring points, the first car load of ham that was shipped into the camp of Bisbee by the Copper Queen company was sold to consumers for 14 cents for which had been paid 22 cents up to that time. Flour, sugar, groceries of every description, and every staple that comes under the head of absolute necessities were sold from 25 to 33 per cent. less than was formerly paid.

"Perhaps one of the leading features that has insured whatever success the Copper Queen store may lay claim to," observed Mr. Brophy, "is the absolute independent policy that we have adhered to in dealing with the employees of the company. No man is expected to deal with the company store if he can better himself elsewhere—we in no particular ask him to deal with the store if he does not do so absolutely out of choice. Every man is born independent and we have no disposition to curtail this right. We are always glad, however, to have our men deal with us, for it is evidence that we are doing more for them than any one else will do—and this has been the motto of the Copper Queen store. The growing condition of the enterprise perhaps speaks more emphatically of the general results than anything else could do."

To give the public any idea of the magnitude of the Copper Queen store is certainly a colossal task. It is a good deal like the exhibition given by the small boy who wrestled with the elephant—it doesn't require a particularly robust imagination to decide about where he came out. It is certainly one of the most complete department stores in all of its ramifications of anything in Arizona, and many of the departments compare favorably with the leading firms of Los Angeles. There are about eighty men immediately connected with the store and fourteen girls in the various departments.

Upon entering the main door to the store you are at once attracted by an inviting and commodious flight of easy stairs leading to certain departments, which you very naturally follow, and at once arrive at the shoe department, under the supervision of L. G. Jackson, formerly of the Broadway department of Los Angeles. This is the leading shoe department in Arizona. No where is there found such a large and varied department, such novel up-to-date patterns and none more excellent in quality. Everything is convenient, with sliding ladders, cash system and other fixtures. All boxes are uniformly arranged in the shelves and are labeled for the system adapted by the management. Sixty-three cases were placed yesterday, which gives an idea of the extent of the business.

The gents' furnishing goods, under Mr. Fowler, is the next station of trust and is entirely equipped throughout, the hat department being especially attractive. Over forty cases of hats were received yesterday. The clothing department, under the direction of Mr. Evans, is very extensive, and the long lines of tables stretched out everywhere covered high with goods of every description, styles and qualities is eminently worthy of the place it occupies in the store. In this department is an extensive line of jewelry of various grades—anything that is desired may be had.

One of the most inviting departments of the store is found in the dry goods department. Here everything in this department is new and rich and entirely in keeping with the trade. Spring and winter patterns attract the eye on every hand and is so arranged that the display cannot fail to be both inviting and of unusual interest. Mr. Hickey takes great pride in this department and feels that it is certainly one of the leading. To describe the laces, ribbons, silks, satins and a long line of woollens best known and especially used by ladies would require one of the most fastidious to give a general conception of the line.

Perhaps the grocery store on the first floor is the most extensive of any of the numerous departments. The long room seems to be lined with men on both sides busily employed throughout the entire day.

The furniture department, under Mr. Hill, and the crockery department, under Mr. Bledsoe, are not only very extensive, being supplemented from time to time with carloads from almost every state where extensive manufacturing is carried on, but the several lines are elegant and beautiful. The heavy oak bedroom sets are evidence of the expensive and substantial furniture that supply the homes of Bisbee.

The moving spirit of this extensive business is Manager Brophy, who has been in Arizona since he was twenty years old. Mr. Brophy was born in the city of Dublin, but came to California when a boy of eighteen. He soon came to Arizona and is one of the oldest residents of the territory. He is very popular among his many employees.

AT CHARLESTON

The Chief Executive on a Tour of the South.

Charleston, S. C., Feb. 12.—The entire population of Charleston, reinforced by thousands of visitors from all parts of South Carolina, Georgia and adjoining states, gave hearty welcome today to President Roosevelt and party. It was Roosevelt Day at the exposition and it will go down in history as one of the biggest days of the big fair. The president was met and formally welcomed by a delegation of representative citizens, headed by Mayor Smyth. The distinguished visitors were escorted to the exposition grounds by a big parade of military and other organizations through streets decorated with flags, bunting streamers and lined on both sides by hundreds of sightseers. Arriving at the exposition grounds a programme of exercises was carried out in the auditorium, addresses of welcome being delivered on behalf of the state, the city and exposition company. The president, Secretary Root and Attorney General Knox made brief responses. The visitors were then escorted about the exposition grounds, returning to the city late in the afternoon. Elaborate preparations have been completed for the dinner to be given in honor of the president at the Charleston hotel this evening. While the dinner to the president is in progress Mrs. Roosevelt will receive in the ballroom of the St. John hotel the members of the board of lady managers of the exposition and other invited guests.

DEMAND THE BALLOT.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt Calls the Convention to Order.

Washington, Feb. 12.—Several hundred women filled the First Presbyterian church today at the opening of the annual convention of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association. An international aspect was given the gathering by the presence of delegates from Canada, and several of the countries of Europe. The church was not decorated to any extent, and the only noticeable emblem was what is called the woman's flag, which contains the usual number of stripes, but only three stars, one for each of the states that have granted the right of suffrage to women. The convention was called to order by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, of New York, president of the association, and the session was given over to the reception and consideration of reports presented by the various officers.

An interesting program has been arranged for tonight, which has been designated on the convention program as "Pioneers' Night." The speakers are to include such venerable agitators in the equal suffrage movement as Susan B. Anthony, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Julia Ward Howe, Mary A. Livermore and Isabella Beecher Hooker.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Three Policemen Appointed—New Ordinances Adopted

The city council was in session last evening in Johnson's hall, and although the meeting was prolonged by much discussion, the minutes showed that very little business was transacted.

The first business transacted was the appointment of three policemen in addition to the city marshal.

Several names were presented, and from a list of eight the following were elected: Jas. Suthe-land, Harry Jennings and Simon Tate.

The newly appointed policemen will be under the orders of City Marshal Dayton Graham, who will arrange the shifts and assign the policemen to their duties. An order was also made by the city council instructing the city marshal to divide the cases arising under city ordinances equally between the two justice courts.

Eliza Gilbert was appointed pound master.

Ordinance No. 9, concerning the letting of contracts for public work by the city council, was adopted by the council, which calls for the publication of proposal notices and the awarding of bids.

Ordinance No. 10 provides for the payment of warrants for allowed bills. Ordinance No. 11 governs the appointment of police.

It was further ordered by the council that a yellow flag be posted at each residence where a smallpox case occurs for at least ten days.

The question of a uniformity of sidewalks along Main street was discussed pro and con, but it seemed to be the sense of the meeting that no action be taken in this direction for the present at least.

EXCURSION

First Through Train Over El Paso and Southwestern Puled Out This Morning.

The first special pulled out of Bisbee this morning bound for Deming, New Mexico, the trial trip over the El Paso and Southwestern. After six months of continual effort we are connected with all points east over the short route. It would be hard to estimate the great good that will accrue to all affected by this new railroad. Sixty carloads were hauled west over the road as soon as the connection was made and 250 are now awaiting transportation at Deming.

Engineer Lincoln will pull the special, assisted by Fireman McDonough. Conductor Cassidy had charge of the train. The party consisted of Supt. Morgan, Messrs. Van Vleet, Shibley, B. A. Packard, T. E. Perkins, F. B. Dorr, of the REVIEW, accompanied the party and will write up the occasion.

This new railroad opens up to the commercial world some of the richest mining sections of the Southwest.

Miners' Drilling Contest.

E. Tirrell arrived in Bisbee last evening as the representative of the Canadian Irish miners, who are anxious to batter steel against the "Swedes of Bisbee."

If a contest can be arranged Mr. E. Tirrell and Con O'Neill will constitute the Canadian team, and are willing to drill for $100 to $1,000 a side, allowing the Bisbee team to say where the contest shall take place, the rock to be an Arizona product.

First event—Down hole, straight-away, one man; two men, change about for 15 minutes.

The team that Messrs. Tirrell and O'Neill are specially after is Andy Janson and Burg. Mr. Tirrell met Mr. Janson last evening and submitted conditions, none of which were accepted. However, the parties will meet today and no doubt a contest will be arranged, to take place in Bisbee in the near future. The Bisbee team will not consent to try for honors at any other place, except Bisbee.
